PUBLIC AUCTION.
SHANGHAI WHARF COMPANY.

All the VALUABLE FREEHOLD, known as the Shanghai Wharf Company, consisting of about 50 mow of ground, and having a water frontage of over 1,200 feet.

THE Directors have decided to offer the above property for sale by Public Competition, on WEDNESDAY,
the 12th day of December, 1866, at 3 o'clock P.M.
On Premises to be hereafter named—

The above valuable property, which will be sold in one lot, is situated on the right Bank of the river Wang-poo, near to the lower limit of the port, and where the river is wide and deep.

The area of the property is about fifty mow, the inland boundaries being enclosed in a complete and substantial corrugated iron fence.

There are two covered Piers, one of 160 feet by 150 feet, the other 150 feet by 100 feet, and a landing pier of 180 feet by about 300 feet, alongside which vessels of 1,000 tons can load or discharge cargo at any state of the tide.

Upon the Ground are erected the following buildings—
A Tea Godown, Brick and Tiled, 159 feet by 50, feet and floored with wood.
One Produce Godown, 159 feet by 50, Brick and Tiled, floored with granite.
A large Tiled Shed of 140 feet by 90 capable of stowing 2,000 tons of Rice or other bulky Merchandize.

LOT 3.—One Lot 4,418 square metres, angle of Rue Catinat and Quai Napoleon facing the Rue Catinat. This plot of land can easily be divided into four nice lots; there are on it, Yards, Sheds, and Buildings, and on one of the most frequented streets, the shops on it, 27 in number, are let at an average of $25 each per month (only one uninhabited). There are also 2 large godowns and a pretty pagoda, in perfect condition, corner of Rue Catinat and Rue Vannier, estimated by itself at $5,000.

LOT 4.—On the prolongation of Quai du Cayan, facing the Chinese arroys and on the prolongation of the Rue Lefevre, four l ts, together 6,685 square metres. On these plots are now the stores of encampment, and some plank buildings, let each at $12 per month, very well situated on the border of the arroy facing 2 streets, and offering great advantages for a large establishment.

LOT 5.—In the large and populous town of Cholen, a few miles from Saigon, a lot of ground enclosed in Street Jaccario, and a few metres from the Chinese arroy, and the big bridge which leads on to the other side of the river, measuring 1,514 square metres. A building on this lot in very good order. The whole is let to Messrs. A. Eymond and D. Henry at $50 per month.

The sale will take place about the end of December, 1866, or the beginning of January, 1867.

HONGKONG, DECEMBER 8, 1866.

AMONGST the English telegrams received last night by the direct cable round the Cape, is a message from the China Committee of the Board of Trade, congratulating the Municipal Council of Victoria Hongkong, on the completion of the tunnel through the Peak which was opened by the Victoria Pokfulum and Aberdeen Railway Company on Tuesday last.* The magnitude of the engineering works which have been carried on during recent years in this Liverpool of the East, has the effect of weakening the sense of admiration which would otherwise be excited by the rapid and efficient manner, in which the hill has been pierced. Of course the undertaking is not worthy of comparison with the Canton viaduct by means of which the trains now sweep over the tortuous windings of the river as if they were merely lines on the map, nor with the artificial lake on the mainland, which by means of the submarine aqueduct laid down by the water works company supplies the almost incredible demand of this enormous city. Nor if we compare it with some of the enterprises successfully carried out in the rising colony of Shanghai, which emancipated from the anomalies of its former constitution as a mere foreign settlement, has long since obliterated all recollection of its once depressed condition, will the Peak Tunnel appear in any way remarkable. Still it is pleasant at times, to select some particular evidence of our prosperity and advancement, and contrast it with the conditions of society, still faintly remembered by the oldest inhabitants, which prevailed here so far back, let us say, as the '60's.

The Message to which we alluded at the commencement of these remarks is in itself a remarkable evidence of progress and evidence of a kind of progress more important by far than the mere material achievements of skilful engineers. Out of the moral and political reforms of the last twenty years our material advancement has arisen. Pari passu with the liberal and invigorating changes which have successively been introduced into the constitution of this colony, its commercial activity has increased and its accumulations of wealth have augmented. The populous city in which we write, lying as it does on both sides of the beautiful harbor which flows like an enormous river through the town, the vast ranges of gigantic warehouses which line the ponderous quays, and prayas of Victoria and Kowloon, beside which Messrs. DENT & Co.'s old offices by Pedder's Wharf,—once in that remote period of which we speak, the '60's, looked upon as the wonder of the infant town, but now a part only of the Victoria Hotel Company's premises,—these warehouses, we say, beside which the hotel is dwarfed into insignificance, could no more have been possible in former times under the old regime than a child's glove could be worn by a man. Looking back to old newspapers, we see that even then the community was beginning to feel the embarrassments arising from its helpless state of dependance, that measures of taxation for instance were attempted so obnoxious to the well being of the colony, that a large amount of business was driven from the island at a time when it could ill be spared. Memorials prepared at the time, moreover, speeches at the few public meetings which were held, and more than all, hints to be derived from the conversation of men, old enough to remember the time, show how restless, discontented, and distrustful the community then was. One GOVERNOR after another, favorably received by a community wearied of his predecessors, fairly anxious to fulfil his trust honorably and invested with all but unlimited power, fell under the influence of that strange fatality which seemed to render it inevitable that Hongkong should be mis-governed. Meanwhile the colony, then as now enjoying the advantages of a situation which has been sometimes called the source of its prosperity, was cramped and stunted, passed through bad times of depression, and failure, and dulness of trade, and men were inclined to say that the limit of its development had been reached, that the Commerce of China which in later years has as we see lined her coasts with commercial cities only inferior in magnitude to our own, could not support more than a few houses perched upon the untamed sides of the old Hongkong hills. In illustration of another matter the member for New Brighton said the other night in the Legislative Assembly, "a seedling may never grow to be a tree even if it is planted in the luxuriant valleys of Stanley Park, but set it in a flower pot and it cannot grow." It was not clearly understood in old days here, that the faults of the Government were the faults, not of men but of system, and often it happened that the public displeasure excited by the system was directed against the men. Without the Colonial Treasurer in the Assembly to explain and vindicate his measures, how would it be possible even now that he should either learn enough of public life to frame appropriate budgets, or save himself from constant misconception. Without the daily ventilation of all public questions in the Legislature how would it be possible for the GOVERNOR to feel the pulse of the colony and know when to support, and when to resist the policy of the Responsible Administrators? Without the weekly meetings of the town board how would it be possible that this enormous mass of business arising from the peculiar difficulties of developing, and controlling the sanitary arrangements of the city could be transacted? Conceive the whole management of public works in this, which we might almost call a re-created island, entrusted to the care of one Surveyor-General with a small staff of subordinates. Imagine one man having to superintend or leave without responsible superintendence, the main drainage works at West Point, the public park at Stanley, the repairs of the old Praya between Causeway Bay and Sowkewan, and the erection of the Civil Hospital at the pleasant little summer suburb on Lema island, not to enumerate a host of other works going forward in various parts of the island and on the Peninsular. Not more difficult would it be for the administration of any Government department, say the Chinese Control department, to be managed on bureaucratic principles. The frequent questioning and suspicious criticism of which the Chairman of the Board is sometimes induced to complain in the Assembly, really aids him, in carrying on the work of his office by rendering him at all times absolutely familiar with the relations between his own countrymen and the native population as well as with the aspirations of the Chinese themselves.

Of course the vast and complicated structure of our present Government would have been entirely unsuited to the early stages of the colony's existence, but it is easy to see on looking back that its development was for a long time retarded by the delay in introducing the first elements of the present system. That which was needed in the beginning was not a large, so much as an elastic system, and while the colony was a mere Government experiment in the hands of the Colonial Office in England, arbitrarily administered by the nominees of that office who with the best intentions could never succeed in saving themselves from sliding into a position of antagonism to the early colonists, the Government was as inelastic as it could possibly be. It was only when the old board of Government subordinates, comically described at the time as the Legislative Council, was superseded by a body a little more worthy of the name, and the individuality of the colony was recognised by the home authorities, the GOVERNOR enabled to reign more, and govern less, the wishes and practical knowledge of the resident population stamped upon the legislation, and the finances of the colony redeemed by a close system of departmental responsibility and voluntary taxation, that the community began as it were to gather way, and enter on that career of advancement which has led to the results we see around us, only commonplace because of their familiarity, but marvellous indeed, if we compare them with the state of things by which they were preceded, twenty years ago. The merchant with a villa a few miles down the Canton line, or in the pleasant woodland country at the back of Mirs Bay, who grumbles at the inconvenience of having to use the flying bridge to reach the railway station each afternoon, might have had neither villa nor railway to take him out of town, if his predecessors had not exerted themselves in the face of many discouragements to assert, when the community to which they belonged seemed to show few signs of inclination to expand, the absolute necessity of a political atmosphere which might encourage and not restrain its growth, when favorable circumstances should urge it forward.

* Perhaps it may be necessary to explain that this article appears to have been written for a later copy of the Daily Press than that which bears to-day's date.

A petition signed by the heads of the most influential Chinese hongs in this city has been forwarded to J. C. Whyte Esq. in consequence of his intended resignation, begging him to retain his seat on the magisterial bench as petitioners are so impressed with the strict impartiality and justice with which he deals with all cases brought before him for adjudication.

The Yacht Race.

According to advertisement a start was made yesterday morning for the Douglas Cup sailing race, which has been postponed from time to time on account of unfavorable weather. The gun for starting was fired about a quarter of nine and the following yachts got under weigh: Heather Bell Hon J. Whittall, Mayflower R. F. Hawke, Rose A. S. Post, Hilda R. S. Dunn, Celestial, junk rig A. McG. Heaton, but there was only a breath of wind, so the boats drifted slowly towards Green Island, and finally passed out of sight, without having had their sails filled. At the time of going to press this morning nothing had yet been seen of them, but as there is quite a fresh breeze blowing they will no doubt during the morning make an appearance. The Hilda and Celestial returned last evening about nine o'clock having evidently given up the race. The Folac followed the yachts out with the excursion party on board, but came in last evening reporting everything quiet outside. She has gone out this morning again through the Lyemoon pass with the hope of finding the boats on their way in.

The Execution.

Low-kum-po, and Leong-sin-kit, this morning paid the extreme penalty of law with their lives for the crimes of murder and piracy on the high seas. The first for the murder of a whole family father, mother and two children on a junk belonging to Sowkewan, and the second for piracy on the American schooner Lubra and the murder of Captain Howes. Before going to the scaffold both prisoners were asked to make a confession but they neither of them revealed anything further than that which they have already stated from time to time during the last confinement. Low kum po admits that he was on board the junk, but denies having thrown any of the people overboard or to have assisted the others in doing so. Since his sentence he seems to have realised the awful doom awaiting him and has been much of the time been found in tears. Leong sin kit alias Ayook, also admits that he was on the junk that boarded the Lubra, and that he was present during the piracy, but he most persistently denies that he shot the Captain, this he said was done by a man named Tai. He would be quite content he said if Tai-in-Tze the other pirate shared his fate with him. Since his sentence he has maintained a air of entire indifference to his fate and to anything that was taking place around him. On Thursday, he was visited by his mother and two other relatives, with his wife and child. They bitterly upbraided him for the course he had pursued and asking him why he had not remained upon his own junk instead of attacking Europeans. The presence of his wife and child seemed to have some effect upon him, and in parting with them he gave way to feeling to some extent, but this was only for a moment as it were, his features immediately resuming their former indifferent appearance, and which they maintained up to the last moment.

At precisely half past six the procession headed by the Governor of the Gaol and Sheriff emerged from the Gaol and traversed the yard of the police court, to the gallows between two files of police drawn up on either side. The prisoners were conducted to the scaffold Lo-kum-poo, trembling all over with agitation and mumbling with great rapidity Leong-sin-kit, with the cool indifference of a man going into his own house. The noose was quickly adjusted the caps drawn, and at a sign from the sheriff the masked executioner drew the bolts and the two criminals were left hanging. Death must have been instantaneous in both, a few convulsive struggles were noticed but both hung swayed only by the momentum of the fall. At 7 o'clock they were cut down, and the necks of both were found to be broken.

While the noose was being adjusted around the neck of Sin-kit, he said to the Europeans that there was a ring, a bracelet and some other property in the hands of the Sergeant. The arrangements were all most perfect and everything was conducted in a quiet orderly manner befitting the occasion. A considerable number of Europeans who had received passes were assembled inside the yard to witness the scene, and outside on Arbuthnot St. was a large crowd of natives and others who could not obtain admittance inside. The convicts were drawn up in a line within that they might profit by the fearful example thus held up before them.

Police Intelligence, December 7th.

BEFORE J. C. WHYTE, Esq.

STREET GAMBLING.

Five coolies were charged with this offence.

Acting Indian Sergeant, No. 321, stated that at about half past eight o'clock this morning, he saw a number of men gambling in Market-street, Taipin-shan, and arrested the first three prisoners out of the crowd.

P. C. 247, deposed to arresting the two last at the same time and in the same place, and also to picking up the gambling mats and cash produced in court.

The usual excuses were made, but the first prisoner was dreadfully deaf and nothing could be made of him.

They were each fined $2, or in default to be imprisoned for two weeks and told that if brought up again they would not be allowed the option of a fine, but would be sent to gaol as vagabonds.

SUSPICIOUS CHARACTER.

Lee-achung, blacksmith, residing at Wanchi, was charged with being a suspicious character, and not at all necessary to the good order of the colony.

P. C. 135, stated that shortly after nine o'clock, he arrested prisoner in a small alley way in Wanchi, he having no pass.

Prisoner stated that he went to pay a visit to some friends at West point, and on returning was arrested when near his own house.

A man came forward stating he knew prisoner, who was accordingly let off, with a fine of half a dollar, for being out without a pass.

LARCENY OF COAL.

Cheong-achin, boatman, was charged with stealing about forty three catties of coal from the quarters of Arungeen, a private in the Ceylon Rifles.

Prosecutor stated that at about six o'clock this morning, he left his room, leaving the door open; on his return he missed the coal now in court and saw marks of coal along the floor, he went out to search for the missing coal, and saw prisoner on the Praya putting it into a boat.

Prisoner said the coals in court were sweepings from the bottom of his boat, and as they had every appearance of being so, prisoner was discharged.

SPURIOUS DOLLARS.

Henry Cooper, P. C. No. 18, charged Patrick Kennefy No. 39, with passing him two counterfeit dollars, in part payment of an account between them.

Henry Cooper, stated that about 5 P.M. yesterday, he sold prisoner a watch for $3.50, for which he paid the two dollars now in court, and six 20 cents pieces; after a time witness discovered that the two dollars produced were bad, and he took them to the charge room to Inspector Daly, prisoner may have given them by mistake.

Lum-ashing, shroff to the court, deposed that both the dollars were bad but might be easily taken for good, they are of foreign and not Chinese manufacture.

Prisoner stated that to the best of his knowledge, he had received the dollars from a China shop, but could not say from what shop they came he did not know they were bad when he paid them to Cooper.

The magistrate allowed this view of the case and discharged the prisoner, ordering the two dollars to be broken up.

A LOAFER.

Thomas Hart, seaman unemployed, was charged with taking fruit from a hawkers' stall and refusing to pay for the same, this man has been loafing about the colony so long that he cannot name the time, and stated that he was discharged from a vessel in Macao, and came over here.

Wai-aquon, licensed hawker, stated that while at West Point, this morning, prisoner took an orange from his basket, and on his asking for payment, struck him and tore his jacket, he therefore gave him in charge, this is not the first time otherwise witness would not have taken the trouble to come up.

Prisoner said he was about to ship on board H. M. S. Icarus, and was accordingly dispatched off to that vessel to see if such were really the fact.

ROBBERY AT THE RIFLE BUTTS.

Chun-afook, washerman, Low-asow, and Mahayee, gardiners, residing in Yow-ma-tee, a village in British Kowloon, were charged, the first with stealing two target props, government property, from the rifle butts, and the two latter with being in unlawful possession of the same.

Lieutenant George Henry Harris, of H. M. 2/20 Regiment knows the props in court to be the property of government, but lent to the Rifle Association, they were put up at a house in Kowloon the property of a gardening hong in this City, witness went over to Kowloon yesterday and was told by the marker that four props had been stolen, they were proceeding to the house where the props were kept and on the way met the second and third prisoners whom the marker said, he thought knew something of them, witness secured these two men who after some delay promised to show where some of the props were, and took witness to a field; after digging for a time in a pool of water they produced the two props now in court, witness then proceeded to take these two men to the station, on the way there they fell in with the first prisoner sitting by the road-side washing some clothes, the two prisoners at once told witness to secure this man, as he was the person who had actually taken the iron in the first place, witness accordingly arrested him also, and thinks he remembers him so far back as 1864 in connection with the loss of sixteen props similar to the ones now in question.

Lai-aleen, marker to the Hongkong Rifle Association had sixteen props such as the two now in court, in his charge, and kept them in his house, yesterday morning he missed four of them but has no idea how they were stolen, he knows the 2nd and 3rd prisoners to be gardeners, but has never seen the first before to his knowledge, he saw the two props now in court dug up yesterday by the 2nd and 3rd prisoners in a field in which they were in the habit of working, he told Mr Harris to arrest these men as he suspected them of being concerned in the robbery of the goods named, as after missing them yesterday, he asked these two if they knew anything about the affair and they promised to get the goods back if witness would say nothing to his master about the matter, but as his master came over soon after he thought better to tell him all about it at once; after his master had secured these two men, while on their way to the station they saw the first prisoner washing clothes, and the second and third at once said "that is the fellow who stole the iron" so Mr. Harris arrested him also; there are three men living in the house from which the props were stolen, and a watchman looks out for it, but witness himself does not sleep there, the house belongs to the master of prisoners 2 and 3.

The first prisoner denied stealing the articles alluded to, but the second stated that he saw him in the act of taking them the night before last, but did not attempt to stop him as he knew the man and could catch him anytime; the next morning he saw him carrying two of the irons into Kowloon City but did not think proper to interfere with the proceeding.

The magistrate said that he was equally as bad as the man who had actually stolen the goods, and remanded the case to Wednesday next the 12th instant.

BURGLARY AT THE MESSAGERIES IMPERIALES COMPANY'S GODOWNS.

Chang-ayun, coolie employed in the Messageries Imperiales Co., and Ho asing, an unlicensed hawker, were charged with stealing one pig of spelter, valued at about $100, from the M. I. Co's Godowns.

Monsieur Lyons stated that he lived in No. 67, Queen's Road, Wanchi. This morning about six o'clock he met the first prisoner near the Messageries Imperiales offices walking along with the pig of spelter produced, the value of which is about $100, wrapped up in a red handkerchief, he at once stopped the man and gave him in charge, and the second who was close to the first at the time, was arrested by another constable on suspicion of being implicated in the robbery.

Jean Josef De Vallais, clerk in the Messageries Imperiales Co. stated that the first prisoner was a coolie employed by the Company. This morning the door of the company's godowns was found broken open, or rather the lock was broken off, and on search being made several pigs similar to the one in court were found missing, witness can not say how many as there are a great number in the godown.

Lee-awan, compradore to the Messageries Imperiales Co., said that he knows the first prisoner as an office coolie employed in the Company, he believes the robbery from the godown took place between half past five and six o'clock this morning. Early this morning he was told that the godown had been broken open, and on going to the spot found the padlock broken off the door, and on examination he found that four pigs of spelter were missing, he believes that first prisoner was in pursuit of the thieves when arrested.

Cheong-ahee, house coolie employed by the Messageries Imperiales Co., knows the first prisoner. This morning witness was informed that the godown door was open, and he immediately went to the compradore and told him about it.

The case was remanded to Wednesday next the 13th instant, the compradore going bail for the first prisoner in $100.

AN UNFORTUNATE RELATIONSHIP.

Wong-a-kum, who at first described himself as a shop-keeper in Stanley Street, but afterwards explained that his brother was, and he himself was unemployed was charged with snatching a pair of trousers, the property of prosecutor, from the counter of a pawnbrokers shop, and hiding the same in his sleeve.

Lee-ahing, cook employed by a Chinese, stated that this morning he went to the Leong yee pawn shop to redeem some clothing, he had delivered the ticket, and the shopman had put the clothing on the counter, and witness suddenly missed it, no one else but prisoner and himself were in the shop at the time, so witness at once suspected him, and on searching him found the clothing—a pair of trousers, hidden in his sleeve so he at once called a constable and gave him in charge.

Prisoner now stated that in his own country he was a money changer, and came from Sunny about three weeks ago, he stays with his brother whom he came here to see, as well as to attempt to obtain some employment; his brother's name is Wong-aping, and he is a collector of rents for the Toy-loy shop, this morning he went to the Leong-yee pawn shop to redeem some clothes and took up prosecutors' trousers by mistake imagining them to be his own clothes.

Wong-ahoo, master of the Leong-yee pawn shop, was then sent for, and on arrival he stated that both prosecutor and prisoner were in his shop this morning, the former to redeem and the latter to pawn some clothing; he placed prosecutor's redeemed articles on the counter which prosecutor did not at once pick up, but prisoner did, and put in his sleeve, imagining them to be friends witness said nothing until prosecutor asked for his clothes when witness told him where they were, and there they were discovered, a constable was at once sent for, and prisoner given in charge.

Wong-aping, brother to prisoner, a respectable looking man, stated that he was a rent collector, his brother had been with him for nearly a month, he was very sorry to hear of the charge brought against his kinsman, and hoped that as he was a stranger in the colony his worship would have mercy upon him.

His Worship, said he would deal with the case only as one of unlawful possession and deal leniently with prisoner as it was his first offence, he should fine him $25, or in default commit him to gaol for three months with hard labour; he was sorry to see such an apparently respectable man as the brother with such a blackguard of relation, and recommended him to send prisoner back to the country again as soon as possible after paying the fine.

Inquest.

An inquest was held at the Civil Hospital yesterday before M. S. Tonnochy Esq., coroner and a jury consisting of Messrs. Ward, Swan, and Stone, on the body of a man named Chin-sing-chun, who died on Thursday last from the effects of certain wounds inflicted on him with a chopper in the central market on the 27th October last, by a person named Wong-me-yuo, who has since been detained in custody.

It was merely a preliminary inquiry and the evidence of Doctor Murray only was taken. That gentleman detailed the various wounds found on the body and expressed his opinion that they had caused death.

The inquiry will be resumed at noon to-day at the magistracy

THE ELEVEN v. THE TWENTY-TWO.

On Tuesday and Wednesday, last, a match was played between the above teams, and resulted in a draw, as time did not allow of the game being finished. For the Twenty-two Messrs. Welsh and Moss made good scores, the former gentleman putting together 33 and 25 in excellent style. The Eleven were unfortunate in their first innings, only scoring 92, of which Mr. Becher made 26 by first-rate play. They made a better stand in their second innings, and when time was called, the score stood at 77 for the loss of only wicket. We subjoin the score.

The Volunteers at Brussels.

The brilliant hospitalities of Brussels bid us turn for a moment to glance at the interesting capital where the fraternisation is taking place. Englishmen of course were sure of a hearty Belgian welcome from the circle in the palace to the populace in the street. Frenchmen are there, with them, to compete for the honours and the prizes of the great shooting contest, and the week will be one of unlimited hospitality and festivity. There are matches, torch-light processions, balls, assemblies, fireworks, banquets, operatic and theatrical performances, and concerts, and all the pleasures that the pretty city can offer to its foreign visitors. We cannot but think that there is a peculiar grace in this eagerness on the part of Belgium to demonstrate its sympathy with Englishmen, their institutions, and their manners. Nor is it less an incident worth noting—the rallying of a thousand English volunteers to try their prowess as marksmen, in a peaceful rivalry, on the soil of that Continent which has so lately been startled by the havoc of the needle-gun. They represent an unpaid British army, a cheap defence which is becoming more efficient every day. They show to our neighbours—we hope triumphantly, without grudging the latter any victories they may achieve—how we are progressing in the great essentials—cool firing, accurate and well-judged distance, and those who are beaten will only have to come back and learn the lesson anew. But their excursion has also another significance. It is testimony to the almost affectionate sentiment which unites the nations of England and Belgium. That little country has been a trouble to us in its time; it has provoked the impatience and vexation of statesmen; it has been the subject of many an ominous prophecy; but it is a land dear to the enlightenment of Europe, nevertheless. Its towns, in size, and wealth and splendour, are out of all proportion to its extent; its burgher annals are prouder than those of not a few dynasties; its industry commands universal admiration; its husbandry is the most finished in the world; and all this our countrymen may see, during their short visit, as they travel from the Pas de Calais to Brussels, and thence to Antwerp. And this small region, blooming with agriculture, swarming with population—a huge garden and factory combined—has been termed the cockpit of Europe, has witnessed some of its bloodiest battles, has been among the objects of its most furious and tortuous contention. It is a popular creed with us as on the Continent, that the independence of Belgium is never for a moment safe. And why? Simply because it has a geographical position, the cause of its former commercial importance, and of the choice which the military Powers have so frequently made of it as the field upon which to bring their quarrels to the arbitrament of war. It is the point of intersection between Germany and France and, in one sense, of England also. A conflict arose. Belgium was immediately saturated with blood; its neutrality—as if neutrality guarantees were worth a rush in our times—this is a part of the European compact, and stares us in the face from the fortifications of Antwerp. And we have other links to bind us in sympathy with the Belgic people. Their laws and customs, in spite of Napoleonic codes, are almost our own, are derived from us, were ours from a date long anterior to that when the heavily-laden vessels of Antwerp raced with the argosies of Frescobaldi. Yet more, the excursionists observe a condition of society very like that which, for a few hours, they quit—a Royal family respected and beloved, entire religious liberty and toleration; municipal institutions in full vigour and dear to the citizens; political freedom unbounded, and, upon the whole, exercised with judgment and moderation, notwithstanding certain awkwardnesses of the Constitution; an immense amount of industry and wealth diffused through all classes—the Belgium of the sixteenth century, in fact, obliterated, and a new Belgium painted, in brighter colours, upon the blood-swept surface. If, then, this be not exactly a pleasure trip, or a useful knowledge trip, it may at least, during the intervals between the serious hours devoted to points and bulls, eyes, when every heart will be throbbing for the gold and silver and other prizes, and the still more precious palm of acknowledged skill and success, derive a relish, all the more keen after recent events and contemporary discussion, from the idea that England has had, whatever may be the case in our days, when the great globe itself appears to be spinning out of its normal course, a political stake in Belgium. The rifle fête, after all, will only be a part of the occasion, which, as our friends at Brussels are anxious to reiterate, is nothing if not international in every sense of the term—an exchange of congratulations and courtesies, a Fonising of the British guests—an exhibition of what Belgium can do when she has her good friends to welcome. In that spirit her invitation is accepted, and she deserves the recognition, not of England alone, but of all the world. As to the shooting, to employ a paradox famous in its day, we might hope that all should win; but in this respect the Belgians are very different from all that they once were. Thirty years ago Brussels was nicknamed the City of Duels, and "dead shots" were the rage. Pistol firing was a constant exercise of young men in the park, M. Genebien, deputy, who shot M. Rogier, Minister, boasted that he could bring down a bee on the wing with the nicest certainty, and when he challenged an adversary was wont to ask, "What day shall be fixed for his funeral." We hear little, if any, of this braggadocio now. Meetings are no longer discussed under the porches of St. Gudule or at the restaurant of Du Bos. The accuracy for which the competitors will strive is of a different character, and has a nobler purpose. All which the volunteers may bear in mind, in their running-while-reading visit, although it is not in human nature to expect that they can, during so velocipede an excursion, filled up with gaiety and excitement, bring back many settled impressions. One thing, however, it would be insulting not to feel sure of. They will represent the body of British riflemen worthily. They may or may not carry off the lion's share of the prizes and distinctions, but they will bear themselves as soldiers should—for while under arms and in uniform they are distinctly soldiers. In this way, no matter how slight or cursory their view of the country, and whatever they carry away from it, they will leave behind a tradition of geniality which will not be without its appreciation by the people who are their entertainers. Host and guest, we feel certain, will reciprocate during this pleasant and generous meeting, the kindliness and the warmth in which the idea of it originated, and, if they have no leisure to compare the currents of their several histories, the phases of their different characters, or the opinions prevalent with regard to their future destinies, they can, at least, meet and part with feelings of heightened amity—the Belgian marksmen knowing that our emulation of them on the firing-ground is in the spirit of friendship, and we are glad to measure our dexterity in a manly exercise with the best men of any people that will shake hands with us. This visit of the English volunteers to Brussels is not a political event; it is better than political, it is a social incident of European interest.—Herald.

THE REMOVAL OF A LIQUIDATOR OF THE BOMBAY CITY BANK BY THE HIGH COURT.—The hearing of the case against Mr. David McCulloch, the late manager of the Bombay City Bank and also one of the liquidators, came on for hearing before Sir Joseph Arnould in chambers Nov. 2nd, Mr. Dunbar, instructed by Messrs. Leathes, appeared on behalf of the petitioners, Messrs. W. H. Pelle, Jehangir Rustomjee Mody, Ardaseer Edulgee Chinoy, and Hormusjee Pestonjee Framjee. It appeared from the statement of Mr. Dunbar, that Mr. McCulloch, in accordance with the suggestion made by the learned Judge on Wednesday last, had consented to withdraw his claim against the liquidators of the company, for the Rs 24,000 claimed in respect of salary at Rs. 1,500 per mensem for unexpired portion of his engagement with the company, on condition that the liquidators abandoned all further claim against him on account of the losses alleged to have arisen from negligence on his part as manager. The liquidators, however, stipulated that Mr. McCulloch should refund the Rs. 1,500 paid to him by Mr. Ruper, the accountants, on the 30th July last. The money was paid without the authority of the Directors; and as the order for the winding up of the bank was made in June, Mr. McCulloch had no right to receive the money from Mr. Ruper. Against the sum of Rs. 1,500 there was Rs. 1,200 due to Mr. McCulloch for commission, which the liquidators were willing to allow. The learned counsel said that in accordance with these terms he would ask his Lordship to grant the petitioners an order. His Lordship granted an order upon the terms stated, and whereby Mr. McCulloch was declared removed from the office of liquidator.—Times of India.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

Hongkong, Friday Evening.

With the exception of the Opium market, trade continues in a singularly inactive condition.

The market for Bengal drug has experienced a slight improvement to-day in consequence of some large purchases that have been made, on the strength it is supposed, of the Clan Alpine being outside with a small supply. The closing quotations however are firm at $620 for Patna, both Cash, and of the Eleventh Sales, and $607.50 for Benares. Malwa is without alteration at $800. The transactions in the other markets have been almost nil, a small lot of 100 bales Tientsin Cotton at $21.50 and 100 bales at $22.50, comprising the entire movement in the goods market reported. Buyers are inquiring for 8/4 Shirtings, but only offering $3.50 for them, at which price of course they find no one willing to meet them, it is said however that a native hong which purchased some time since at a low figure some 40,000 pieces, have offered their goods at $3.45, a price that is far from remuneration at the present time, and is done perhaps more with a view to force the market down within their own ideas if possible than in the course of legitimate trade. Such a manœuvre as this may have also been directed as a feeler to the tone of the European market in view of the rumors at present afloat, and that have been largely circulated among the Chinese in regard to the suspension of two or three European firms. It would appear that some demand exists for goods but before purchasing, it seems as though every method for reducing the market price were to be tried. There is a slight movement in the produce market. Sales are reported of 5,000 piculs Saigon Rice at last quotations, 4000 piculs California Wheat at $3.45 to $3.50 and 2500 piculs Yellow Peas at $2.07. Exchange is without change. Shares are weak with a downward tendency. Hongkong and Shanghai Bank have been offered at 2 and 3 per cent since yesterday, and for a large amount even lower than this might have been obtained. Some ascribe this decline to the late rumors before referred to, while other, to a scarcity of money, and a pressing necessity to realize on securities. It seems however that this decline can be no more than temporary and that a reaction will soon be apparent. In view of these facts the mail is looked for with increased anxiety.

occasion, which, as our friends at Brussels are anxious to reiterate, is nothing if not international in every sense of the term—an exchange of congratulations and courtesies, a lionising of the British guests—an exhibition of what Belgium can do when she has her good friends to welcome. In that spirit her invitation is accepted, and she deserves the recognition, not of England alone, but of all the world. As to the shooting, to employ a paradox famous in its day, we might hope that all should win; but in this respect the Belgians are very different from all that they once were. Thirty years ago Brussels was nicknamed the City of Duels, and "dead shots" were the rage. Pistol firing was a constant exercise of young men in the park. M. Genebien, deputy, who shot M. Rogier, Minister, boasted that he could bring down a bee on the wing with the nicest certainty, and when he challenged an adversary was wont to ask, "What day shall be fixed for his funeral." We hear little, if any, of this braggadocio now. Meetings are no longer discussed under the porches of St. Gudule or at the restaurant of Du Bos. The accuracy for which the competitors will strive is of a different character, and has a nobler purpose. All which the volunteers may bear in mind, in their running-while-reading visit, although it is not in human nature to expect that they can, during so velocipede an excursion, filled up with gaiety and excitement, bring back many settled impressions. One thing, however, it would be insulting not to feel sure of. They will represent the body of British riflemen worthily. They may or may not carry off the lion's share of the prizes and distinctions, but they will bear themselves as soldiers should—for while under arms and in uniform they are distinctly soldiers. In this way, no matter how slight or cursory their view of the country, and whatever they carry away from it, they will leave behind a tradition of geniality which will not be without its appreciation by the people who are their entertainers. Host and guest, we feel certain, will reciprocate during this pleasant and generous meeting, the kindliness and the warmth in which the idea of it originated, and, if they have no leisure to compare the currents of their several histories, the phases of their different characters, or the opinions prevalent with regard to their future destinies, they can, at least, meet and part with feelings of heightened amity—the Belgian marksmen knowing that our emulation of them on the firing-ground is in the spirit of friendship, and we are glad to measure our dexterity in a manly exercise with the best men of any people that will shake hands with us. This visit of the English volunteers to Brussels is not a political event; it is better than political, it is a social incident of European interest.—Herald.

THE REMOVAL OF A LIQUIDATOR OF THE BOMBAY CITY BANK BY THE HIGH COURT.—The hearing of the case against Mr. David McCulloch, the late manager of the Bombay City Bank and also one of the liquidators, came on for hearing before Sir Joseph Arnould in chambers Nov. 2nd. Mr. Dunbar, instructed by Messrs. Leathes, appeared on behalf of the petitioners, Messrs. W. H. Peile, Jehangir Rustomjee Mody, Ardaseer Eduljee Chinoy, and Hormusjee Pestonjee Framjee. It appeared from the statement of Mr. Dunbar, that Mr. McCulloch, in accordance with the suggestion made by the learned Judge on Wednesday last, had consented to withdraw his claim against the liquidators of the company, for the Rs. 21,000 claimed in respect of salary at Rs. 1,500 per mensem for unexpired portion of his engagement with the company, on condition that the liquidators abandoned all further claim against him on account of the losses alleged to have arisen from negligence on his part as manager. The liquidators, however, stipulated that Mr. McCulloch should refund the Rs. 1,500 paid to him by Mr. Roper, the accountants, on the 30th July last. The money was paid without the authority of the Directors; and as the order for the winding up of the bank was made in June, Mr. McCulloch had no right to receive the money from Mr. Roper. Against the sum of Rs. 1,500 there was Rs. 1,200 due to Mr. McCulloch for commission, which the liquidators were willing to allow. The learned counsel said that in accordance with these terms he would ask His Lordship to grant the petitioners an order. His Lordship granted an order upon the terms stated, and whereby Mr. McCulloch was declared removed from the office of liquidator.—Times of India.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

Hongkong, Friday Evening.

With the exception of the Opium market, trade continues in a singularly inactive condition.

The market for Bengal drug has experienced a slight improvement to-day in consequence of some large purchases that have been made, on the strength it is supposed, of the Clan Alpine being outside with a small supply. The closing quotations however are firm at $620 for Patna, both Cash, and of the Eleventh Sales, and $607.50 for Benares. Malwa is without alteration at $800. The transactions in the other markets have been almost nil, a small lot of 100 bales Tientsin Cotton at $21.50 and 100 bales at $22.50, comprising the entire movement in the goods market reported. Buyers are inquiring for 8/4 Shirtings, but only offering $3.50 for them, at which price of course they find no one willing to meet them, it is said however that a native hong which purchased some time since at a low figure some 40,000 pieces, have offered their goods at $3.45, a price that is far from remuneration at the present time, and is done perhaps more with a view to force the market down within their own ideas if possible than in the course of legitimate trade. Such a manoeuvre as this may have also been directed as a feeler to the tone of the European market in view of the rumors at present afloat, and that have been largely circulated among the Chinese in regard to the suspension of two or three European firms. It would appear that some demand exists for goods but before purchasing, it seems as though every method for reducing the market price were to be tried. There is a slight movement in the produce market. Sales are reported of 5,000 piculs Saigon Rice at last quotations, 4000 piculs California Wheat at $3.45 to $3.50 and 2500 piculs Yellow Peas at $2.67. Exchange is without change. Shares are weak with a downward tendency. Hongkong and Shanghai Bank have been offered at 2 and 3 per cent since yesterday, and for a large amount even lower than this might have been obtained. Some ascribe this decline to the late rumors before referred to, while other, to a scarcity of money, and a pressing necessity to realize on securities. It seems however that this decline can be no more than temporary and that a reaction will soon be apparent. In view of these facts the mail is looked for with increased anxiety.
